YOUTH ORCHESTRA, CYCNY

The Youth Orchestra is a Queens-based 501(c)(3) organization founded in 1996, whose mission is to provide orchestral training and performing opportunities for instrumental music students, ages ten to eighteen. The orchestra's unique repertory includes commissions by American and Asian composers, as well as classical, popular, Jazz, Broadway, Film, and Asian music.

After completing one of two biannual auditions (either September or January), members attend weekly rehearsals from September through June at Middle School 158 in Bayside, Queens. Youth Orchestra members perform in venues ranging from local community centers to renowned concert venues (Alice Tully Hall at Lincoln Center), as well as summer concert tours to the West Coast, Asia, and Europe.

In 2020-21, the orchestra conducted its weekly education program and performances online, due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Award-winning musician/engineer Yasuhiko Fukuoka edited the spectacular digital submissions from Youth Orchestra members, and the Holiday Concert and Annual Concert were presented on YouTube. The Youth Orchestra returned to weekly in-person rehearsals on September 18, 2021, and performed annual concerts at Lincoln Center on June 16, 2022, June 17, 2023 and June 8, 2024. Upcoming 2024-25 performances include the 27th Annual Holiday Concert on December 15, 2024 at MS158 in Bayside, Queens; and the 21st Concert on June 14, 2025 at Lincoln Center's Alice Tully Hall.

The administration of the Youth Orchestra, CYCNY: Patsy Fang Chen, Artistic Director; Chunsheng Jason Chang, Executive Director; Chijen Christopher Chung, Music Director/Conductor, Hsinyi Samantha Huang (librarian); the Youth Orchestra faculty: Chijen Christopher Chung and Lilian Hung (Strings); Hsinhui Karen Liao and Lovell Park Chang (Woodwind & Brass); ChiChing Grace Lin (Percussion); ChiWei Chang (Piano); Liling Lillian Hung (Chamber Music).

Dear friends,

It's such a joy to celebrate the season and the work of the Youth Orchestra, CYCNY with their 27th Annual Holiday Concert in Queens. New York City is known for its musical wonders, and it starts with equipping our children with these experiences. The Youth Orchestra has been providing our youth musicians space to learn and enhance their musical skills since 1996. The talented students exemplify discipline and diligence. I value the Youth Orchestra's core mission to provide orchestral training and performing opportunities for musical students from a young age.

As a community, we must support our youth by investing and showing up for them. I'm proud to work to bring more resources to schools and students to expand the art programs. I congratulate all members of the Youth Orchestra for their hard work. I look forward to enjoying the beautiful show with you!

Sincerely,

Dear Friends,

It is with sincere pleasure that I welcome you all to the Youth Orchestra, CYCNY's Annual Holiday Concert, which has been a holiday tradition in Queens since 1998.

For over a quarter-century, the Youth Orchestra, CYCNY has been providing aspiring musicians between the ages of 11 and 18 years old the opportunity to be part of an orchestra and hone their musical skills alongside their peers, while receiving professional-level instruction from a group of talented instructors. The students are able to interact with other musicians, as well as perform in front of live audiences, both in distinguished venues like Alice Tully Hall and more modest, but no less important, settings like MS 158 here in Queens.

It was a pleasure to have a group of musicians from Youth Orchestra, CYCNY perform for the third year in a row during my annual Memorial Day Observance in Kissena Park. I commend them and all of the Youth Orchestra members for their hard work and dedication, as well as for the contributions they make to the cultural landscape here in New York City.

I want to thank Youth Orchestra, CYCNY and its faculty members for enriching the lives of our young people by nurturing a lifelong love of music, and in turn sharing that passion with the community through events like the Annual Holiday Concert. I wish them many more years of success and moving musical performances.

Sincerely,

What is your favorite piece from this year's Holiday concert? And why?

Christmas at the Movies is my favorite song from this year's Holiday Concert. A very upbeat atmosphere is created by the fast-paced music and variety of tunes. The many tracks evoke a range of feelings, some of which are more serene than others. From energetic to lyrical. It's so fun to play the piece together.

What's something you like to do in your free time?

I like to read in my free time, I'm currently reading The Last Juror by John Grisham. I also like to play volleyball with my friend at the park. I like to crochet, my cousin taught me how to crotchet last year, and I've been doing it since.

What are your plans for this Holiday break?

Some of my plans for this holiday break include spending a day with friends at Rockefeller Center. We're looking forward to ice skating and enjoying hot chocolate together. I also plan to travel to another state with my family for a few days.

What's something you like to do in your free time?

In my free time, I enjoy creating and drawing art, either of characters from video games and shows or original characters I've made. I primarily use my iPad and the program Procreate, where I experiment with different art styles and brushes.

What is your favorite piece from this year's Holiday concert? And why?

My favorite piece from this year's holiday concert is probably either African Holy Night or Brazilian Sleigh Bells. Since those two pieces are both different versions and have different playing styles to the Christmas music we usually play, it's nice to play new variations of familiar music.

Are there any specific pieces you would like the orchestra to play?

Ever since I joined CYCNY, and especially since we played Indiana Jones, I've wanted to play more pieces and works by John Williams (Harry Potter, Star Wars, Jurassic Park, etc.). His music in an orchestral setting just sounds really really good. If not more John Williams, some of Joe Hisaishi's movie works would be great as well.

What is your favorite piece from this year's Holiday concert? And why?

My favorite piece from this year's holiday concert is Spring Festival. It's my favorite piece because it's very lively and fun!

Do you have any goals for the future? (Musical or in general)

There is one goal that I have in mind, to get a full score on NYSSMA this year. So

What is your favorite piece from this year's Holiday concert? And why?

My favorite piece probably has to be Christmas at the Movies, even though it's quite hard to get right due to all the changing tones, once you do learn how to do so, you find yourself with a really fun piece to play.

What's something you like to do in your free time?

During my free time, I mostly like to draw, and play video games on my laptop and phone.

Are there any specific pieces you would like the orchestra to play?

Not really, since I like learning pieces out of my comfort zone.

How has your experience in the orchestra been so far?

I really like being in the orchestra so far, everyone playing, messing up, and learning from it felt just like school. (Not in a bad way though!)

Do you have any goals for the future? (Musical or in general)

Not really, I'm still finding out what I want to be.

What's something you like to do in your free time?

Something I enjoy to do outside of my time in the orchestra is participating in the Scouting America program. This program really helped expose me to the outdoors, which I have found a fascinating and engaging place. Despite the many challenges of participating, I really do believe I've gained a lot from scouting that I could not have learned from other extracurricular activities. Something in particular I like about scouting is helping the younger members gain new skills and navigating their way through the difficult camping environment.

How has your experience in the orchestra been so far?

While being in the orchestra isn't easy, I've personally gained many rewards from not this experience. Music has taught teamwork and discipline to me. If just one member out of the dozens in the orchestra makes a mistake, the blame falls on the whole group for not assisting that member. The orchestra has also been an opportunity to socialize and gain new friends for me.

Free Space:

I would like to thank all of the staff who took time from work and family life to support our musical careers. It really does help us a lot when they spend time teaching us how to play, and each member of the orchestra gained invaluable life lessons and knowledge from this experience.

What is your favorite piece from this year's holiday concert? And why?

Personally, I really enjoy playing 春節組曲. The liveliness at the start is a great contrast to the slow and smooth middle. At the end, it goes back to the main melody played at the beginning, and the ending is grand! The addition of the percussion instruments adds to the celebratory atmosphere.

How has your experience in the orchestra been so far?

This is the first youth orchestra I've ever been in, and the overall experience has been amazing. Everyone is extremely passionate about music and kind. The music is challenging, but in a good way. It's been a huge change of pace for me. To be completely honest, the first few rehearsals I ever attended were extremely challenging since I wasn't used to picking up music at such a fast pace. However, now I'd like to think that I've adjusted pretty well and subsequently modified my practice hours as well.

What is the most cherished and memorable aspect of your time in high school?

The aspect I find most enjoyable during my high school years is the opportunity to meet and connect with new people. Each student possesses unique stories and experiences to share. I find myself deeply immersed in each narrative, exposed to diverse ideas and perspectives.

These stories inspire, sadden, and humble me. I am grateful for the opportunity to engage with this vibrant world, enriched by its many different viewpoints and lives. I cherish each opportunity to expand my view of this world, and it has helped me see substantial growth in myself. With each interaction, I gain the chance to learn something new, the chance to change my beliefs or views.

What passions and activities do you most like to engage in outside of school?

I am particularly inclined to say that I am most interested in the art of 3D modeling and design. I find immense satisfaction in the creative process, realizing what was just a concept in my mind, creating three dimensional tangible forms, and being able to mold and shape what I want. I adore transforming mere figments of my imagination into complex and diverse palpable objects. What I envision, I can have the confidence to realize, knowing that it can be brought to fruition.

Are there any specific pieces you would like the orchestra to play while you are in the orchestra?

For me, the piece I would like the orchestra to play is "A Christmas Festival" by Leroy Anderson. This piece includes "Joy to the world", "Deck the Halls", "God rest Ye Merry Gentlemen", "Good King Wenceslas", "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing", "Silent Night", "Jingle Bells", and "O' Come All Ye Faithful". This piece is good for the orchestra to play because it includes a variety of Christmas songs that range from energetic, happy ones to those which are calm and melancholy. Some of the songs are very catchy and are easy to play even if you didn't know the song well. This piece was played during my first year here at CNCNY and I greatly enjoyed playing it.

If you could have a do-over of anything in your life, what would it be?

If I could have a do-over of anything in my life, I would want to go back to when I was at my acrobatics camp last summer. I would try everything we did during that week again, but do them with more courage to complete the things that the coaches taught us. For example, jumping from one uneven bar to another, and standing on top of the top bar then jumping off. I would even do the things I wouldn't dare do at the time, like doing a front flip, or even fall backwards into the foam pit from high above. I would get to know my campmates more, maybe even ask for their names and numbers so that we can keep in touch.

How do you want to change the world?

I would like to change the world by recycling more because the earth is getting polluted with too much trash. In the past, I have never given a thought about recycling; but after our teacher gave us an article to read about recycling, it completely changed my viewpoint. I want to keep our planet healthy so that we can have a cleaner place to live, and can accomplish that by buying products that can be reused and recycled multiple times. This gives old products a new purpose, to be useful again. At the moment, I'm considering bringing the recyclables from my house to a recycle center instead of leaving them in the recycle bin. That way, all the recyclables will actually be recycled and put to good use.

What is your favorite piece from this year's Holiday concert? And why?

My favorite piece from this year's holiday concert is light calvary overture and christmas at the movies. Light calvary overture is such an exciting and thrilling piece that really gets me and the audience invested in the rest of the music. Christmas at the movies has a mix of both slow and peaceful parts but also exhilarating and fast parts. It has some of my favorite christmas movies and songs in it which makes it so much funner to play.

What are your plans for this Holiday break?

My plans for winter break aren't set yet but I might go to florida for some bigger golf tournaments or skiing.

What is your favorite piece from this year's Holiday concert? And why?

What is your favorite piece from this year's Holiday concert? And why?

My favorite pieces from this year's concert are Light Cavalry Overture and Spring Festival. I really like Light Cavalry Overture because of its mood changes and exciting rhythm. The introduction theme reminds me of a cavalry on the battlefield while the intermediary theme reminds of a horse galloping into the forest. I just really like the melody and I think it's a great starter for our program. Now I listen to it whenever I'm trying to lock in on school work. I love Spring Festival because it is a fast challenging piece and has a festive feeling that really resonates with me. It is such a staple during Chinese New Year and it's really fun to play.

What's something you like to do in your free time?

"The pursuit of happiness". But actually, I devote a lot of my free time to this orchestra because it means a bunch to me. It is no easy task to balance everything and find spare time for myself. I really love napping. Sometimes I can nap for a few hours and then fall back asleep. My favorite nap time is late afternoon because the sky outside is not too bright but not nighttime yet and I could imagine there being a nice breeze. I also have been buying flowers and arranging them as decor for my room. It is a rewarding leisure activity. How wonderful it would be to take a relaxing stroll in the park, I would definitely like to do that. Maybe when the weather is in the nice 70s and drizzling in the evening, I'll walk a bridge and watch as the sky greys and the city lights shine. Maybe when the sunlight is glowing on me, I'll take a stroll through the park, lay on the grass, and watch the baby blue turn into rose pink and gentle purple, then wash back into a solidarity of navy.

What's something you like to do in your free time?

Something I pursue in my own free time would be playing basketball. I find basketball an easy way to express myself on the court. I love playing with my team and friends. While basketball also helps with friends and emotions it also helps me find time to relax myself.

When I play after school, it's like having my own free time to relax and just shoot around not having to care too much about other things. Basketball also keeps me physically healthy, it keeps me more active. Basketball also helps me think, it's a strategic game where I need to use my head to help me push my way through problems on the court or not. Basketball is a sport that really keeps me balanced through school and life in general.

What is your favorite piece from this year's Holiday concert? And why?

My favorite piece from this year's Holiday concert is "Great Days." This piece resonates with me deeply because it sounds and feels just like one of my favorite movies, "My Neighbor Totoro." The melody is beautifully calming and evokes a sense of nostalgia, reminding me of the first time I watched Totoro or even imagined being a part of that magical world. The music has a way of transporting me back to those joyful moments. I also find immense joy in playing this piece because, despite its simplicity, it carries a profound beauty. The light bounce in the rhythm adds a playful and uplifting quality that I absolutely love. Each note seems to dance, creating an atmosphere that is both comforting and enchanting. I hope you will enjoy "Great Days" as much as I do, and that it brings you a sense of peace and happiness, just as it does for me.

Are there any specific pieces you would like the orchestra to play?

One specific piece that I would love for this orchestra to play is "Wicked". I believe it is the perfect fit, especially this year, because of the upcoming movie release. The soundtrack of "Wicked" is something I hold dear, as I listen to it often and find it incredibly soothing. The music has a unique way of calming me down, and I absolutely love every note. Two of my favorite songs from the soundtrack are "Defying Gravity" and "Popular". These songs, along with the entire play, provide me with a sense of comfort that is hard to find elsewhere. The story of "Wicked" is beautifully crafted, and the music complements it perfectly. I am eagerly anticipating the movie, and the thought of performing this piece for an audience fills me with excitement. I would love to share the beauty and emotional depth of "Wicked" with others, allowing them to experience the same joy and comfort that I do.

What is your favorite piece from this year's Holiday concert? And why?

When our woodwinds, brass, and percussion first rehearsed Great Days, I was struck by its beauty and sound. I love the melodies and contrasting themes each instrument plays, and the added bonus that I get to just sit back and listen since there is no string part. I also really like Spring Festival Overture for its fun theme and Christmas at the Movies for its dynamic, iconic melodies.

What are your plans for this Holiday break?

To be fully honest, I might have to spend my Holiday break writing college applications (again)... My schedule is always jam-packed, with at least one event every day, and I haven't been able to find a breather in weeks. I'm hoping that I will get to have at least two days to just sit down with some hot cocoa to crochet and watch a show. That's heaven to me right now :,)

What's something you like to do in your free time?

When I do have free time (which hasn't been the case in weeks) I write, read, and crochet. I usually do all three at once somehow. Or I put on some music or a video essay about everything and nothing, and draw on my digital tablet. I love creation and expression, and that's all I strive to do. For the past month, I've dedicated all of my spare time into making/ordering/wrapping gifts for my classmates and loved ones. The holiday season is always my favorite time of year because it's the biggest excuse to show my appreciation for everyone around me.

What is a memory of the orchestra that you will always remember?

A memory that I will always remember being in the orchestra is my first time going to Alice Tully Hall. My first time in Alice Tully Hall, I was immediately surprised by how big the stage was and was completely shocked. My friends were exploring around Manhattan. We also got to eat the amazing sandwiches that Patsy provided for us. When it was time for the performance, I was nervous and I felt like I was going to screw up. At the end of the performance, it ended off great and the audience liked it a lot. The crowds of people outside were waiting for us. That was one of the best moments I had in the orchestra.

What is your favorite piece from this years concert?

My favorite piece from this year's concert is the Light Cavalry Overture. I love playing this song in the orchestra because it reminds me of the opening song we had last year and it uses different instruments like the trumpets. The sound of the trumpets make the audience feel excited to listen to the performance.

What is your favorite piece from this year's Holiday concert? And why?

My favorite piece from this year's Holiday Concert is Christmas at the Movies. I like this piece because it has many catchy rhythms and it makes me feel very energized. Also, there are many different Christmas songs that change tones every time they switch. The switches, tempo, and the beats between the songs are the reason why this is my favorite. All the instruments playing together make a harmonious sound that can really put the audiences on the edge of their seats. The biggest reason why this is my favorite is because it has many ups and downs (as in tone and melody.) Many parts of the piece are unexpected. That's why Christmas at the Movies is my favorite piece from this year's holiday concert.

What is your favorite piece from this year's Holiday concert and why?

My favorite piece from this year's Holiday Concert is Christmas at the Movies, which features songs from classic movies like Home Alone, Polar Express, and How the Grinch Stole Christmas. The main theme from Home Alone, Somewhere in My Memory is very nostalgic because my brothers and I would binge watch the first two movies every year. The piece also includes Where Are You Christmas? and The Polar Express, both songs from movies that my elementary school teachers would overplay in the winter. Because all these songs are associated with memories from my childhood, I'm excited to play Christmas at the Movies in this year's Holiday concert.

How has your experience in the orchestra been so far?

My experience being in the orchestra has been very influential because it has not only taught me how to be a better musician, but also how to be a better collaborator. When I first joined, I had no idea how to play any of the pieces and I had no experience being in an orchestra. However, each year I learn something new, like the importance of practicing to improve or how to lead the rest of the section. Although it's sometimes difficult, being able to perform every year with my friends makes the struggle worth it.

What is your favorite piece from this year's Holiday concert? And why?

My favorite piece from this holiday concert would probably be Light Cavalry Overture. I love the strong start to the piece with all of the brass and how it shifts through many different stories. I've played this piece 3 times with the orchestra and now that I'm finally a senior, it feels nostalgic to play this piece for the last time.

What are your plans for this Holiday break?

This holiday break, I want to spend time with friends and family especially since this is my last winter break of high school and probably the last one that I will spend living with my parents at home. Over the past few years, my family has traveled a lot but I wouldn't mind a nice week relaxing at home with my dog before school starts back up again. But also, I would love to go snowboarding this year! I started learning a little bit last year on a trip with my friends and I hope to do the same this year.

How has your experience in the orchestra been so far?

Having been a member for almost 8 years now, I have learned so much through this orchestra. It shows through the social aspect with all the new friends and connections I've made and the music side where I learned new techniques, practice habits and just overall improved as a musician. Orchestra is something that I look forward to every Saturday and the idea of being able to collaborate with so many great musicians is amazing to me.

Free Space:

As I wrap up the last winter concert that I will ever perform with CYCNY, I just want to thank everyone who has supported our orchestra. It's truly amazing what can become of a group of talented musicians from all over Queens, Long Island and even further. Music has served as a support system for me all throughout COVID and even now, through the tedious college process and being in CYCNY has helped me so much during this journey. I feel so grateful to be able to call this orchestra my second family and a place where I know I will enjoy myself and be able to do amazing things. If you're debating on auditioning for CYCNY, you definitely should. Whether it's the amazing talent or the good food that attracts you, there's a place for everyone in this orchestra!

For the last time, happy holidays and we hope you enjoy the concert! :)

What is your favorite piece from this year's Holiday concert? And why?

My favorite piece from this year's holiday concert is "Jingle Bells Forever." Although the other songs share the same feeling of festivity, I feel the strongest nostalgia When I listen to, and play this song. This piece is similar to a piece I performed 7 years ago, back in 3rd grade. Which is the reason why this piece is my favorite this year.

What's something you like to do in your free time?

Something I enjoy doing in my free time is sketching characters and objects that I think are interesting or have value. I enjoy doing this the most during times when I need to relax or simply because I have something on my mind that I want to put on paper. This habit has allowed me to create great pieces of art and satisfied my want for satisfying things to look at.

Are there any specific pieces you would like the orchestra to play?

The classical pieces that we have played are great and I think it's a nice way to celebrate the holidays. This is my first year with the orchestra and I don't know if in previous years there have been Japanese songs played. However, I would like to be able to play and listen to songs of Japanese culture.

How has your experience in the orchestra been so far?

This is my first time being in an orchestra and I can say that it is not as easy at first. You need to be able to adapt to the tempo(speed) that the conductor is playing and look at the conductor ever so often so you know when he wants you to slow down or speed up. Sometimes it may be stressful when you don't know where you are or don't know how to play something in the piece. Having a partner beside you who also plays with you is a great help and can boost your confidence, skills, and enthusiasm. Being in the orchestra greatly helps your social skills and develops teamwork abilities, Overall being in this community of learning and encouragement shows you how you can be better in the real world.

Do you have any goals for the future? (Musical or in general)

Having a lot of skills in music can be helpful in the future, especially in the music or art field. Knowing about this knowledge can help you when finding careers you enjoy. One of my goals is to improve my violin skills so I can be better at sight reading and playing the songs I enjoy listening to. Being able to play songs that I like is a great accomplishment that I think could turn into a satisfying habit and help relax you when you're tired.

What's something you like to do in your free time?

Whenever I have free time, I like to go outside and enjoy some fresh air, or listen to music or play mobile games. That being said, the new school year was more intense than I expected, so I'm spending more time studying. It's a goal of mine to get enough sleep this year, so I spend less time goofing off.

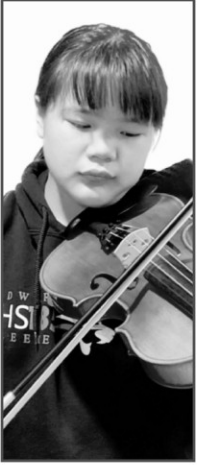

What's something you like to do in your free time?

I used to journal daily last year, and I'm thinking of journaling again this year. I'm also looking forward to playing video games with my friends (in moderation, of course).

This year's holiday concert will be a fun and memorable experience for me. I really enjoyed being part of it and knowing where I fit in. In my free time, I love reading stories that interest me. Reading always gives me new ideas and keeps me inspired. I also find drawing is super relaxing. I like that you don't always need a plan when you start. Sometimes, you can just let your hands move and create whatever comes to mind. When you finish, it can feel very satisfying. And if you don't like the result, that's okay. You can always start again and try something new.

What is your favorite piece from this year's Holiday concert? And why?

Spring Festival Overture! Despite it being a challenging piece, the melodies and harmonies combined creates a really joyous and traditional festive tune. I really like listening to other parts while I play my part!

What's something you like to do in your free time?

I love to spend my free time frolicking with my friends, studying in cafes, reading books, or just sketching something random. Emphasis on studying in cafes; I love to have a small group study session with my friends.

Are there any specific pieces you would like the orchestra to play?

A soundtrack from How To Train Your Dragon, more specifically Test Drive or Romantic Flight. These two songs have always been on the top of my list of orchestral songs to play. I just absolutely love how the brass section adds so much more depth to the string instruments in Test Drive; and if you've ever watched the trilogy then you'd get goosebumps listening to these soundtracks live.

What is your favorite piece from this year's Holiday concert? And why?

My favorite piece from this year's Holiday concert is Christmas at the Movies, arranged by Bob Krogstad. I like this piece because it brings back a lot of memories from my childhood during the holiday season.

What are your plans for this Holiday break?

This Holiday break, I am traveling to Las Vegas for a week. When I get back, I hope to spend a couple days skiing with friends and family upstate.

Name : Wei Tong Yu

School : LaGuardia

Grade : 10th

Instrument : Violin

What are your plans for this Holiday break?

This Christmas holiday, I plan to balance my time between schoolwork and preparing festive meals. I'll dedicate a few hours each day to reviewing my notes, completing assignments, and getting a head start on any upcoming projects to ensure I stay ahead before the new semester begins. In between study sessions, I'll take breaks to experiment in the kitchen, making some of my favorite holiday dishes, like homemade cookies, gingerbread, and a hearty Christmas dinner. Cooking will be a fun way to unwind and bring some festive cheer to my study routine. The balance of productivity and creativity in the kitchen will make the holiday feel both fulfilling and festive, without the pressure of falling behind.

Do you have any goals for the future? (Musical or in general?)

I want to minor in music because it has always been a major passion of mine, and I believe it will complement my main field of study in ways that will enrich my academic and personal growth. Music offers a unique blend of creativity, discipline, and emotional expression that I find both inspiring and grounding. By pursuing a minor in music, I hope to deepen my understanding of music theory, enhance my performance skills, and connect with like-minded individuals who share my enthusiasm for the arts. Additionally, I believe that integrating music into my education will not only expand my creativity but also provide me with valuable skills, such as problem-solving and teamwork, that I can apply in other areas of my life and future career.

What is your favorite piece from this year's Holiday concert? And why?

Although I absolutely LOATHE playing this piece (the key signature is abysmal), it sounds amazing. The awkward ornaments add to the complexity of the piece; when played correctly, they give it a unique flavor. Its energy appropriately brings the concert to an end. In a close second, I enjoy playing the Light Cavalry Overture. It has ENERGY. There are many sleep-inducing pieces in our repertoire this year, so enjoy the excitement before you pass out in the audience. It also has a line that I can never seem to play correctly; I do not agree with the "implied breath break" as written in the sheet. But sometimes you just have to do what you have to do. In the end, all of these pieces are great by themselves but even better when viewed holistically as a setlist.

What are your plans for this Holiday break?

This Holiday break should (if I stop procrastinating my essays) be a great time to continue my journey into photography. It was a hobby that I picked up a while ago but never found the time to pursue it. The winter time in the city can be beautiful, especially when it snows. Realistically it will never snow as much as it used to. I plan on taking trips outside the city-heard there is a lot of snow upstate. Nonetheless, I want to spend time outside my school or home to feel the cold sting of the winter draft and how it freezes my hair after morning swim practice.

What's something you like to do in your free time?

I would like to spend more time practicing my instruments in my free time. I hope to be able to play Brahms' Hungarian Dances No. 5 on the clarinet and Chopin's Revolutionary Etude on the piano. I listen to music all the time, but I would also like to be able to play the songs I enjoy listening to. I would also like to work on composition-experimenting with the melodies of existing music. Yes this requires music theory. Yes we all dislike music theory. But theory would also make me a better jazz player, so maybe it is worth the hours spent digging through theory worksheets and textbooks.

Are there any specific pieces you would like the orchestra to play?

I would do anything to perform Joseph Haydn's Symphony No. 45 in F? minor. It is more famously known as the "Farewell" Symphony where the performers seemingly quit on the conductor "mid-performance." On top of a phenomenal music performance, this piece opens the opportunity for comedic effect. I've seen too many YouTube videos of how different conductors react to their symphony-members simply stop playing and walk off while trying to keep the straightest expressions. I wonder what kind of show Conductor Chris would put on, although I am sure he will give the audience-and the orchestra-a great laugh. In general, I am a great fan of musical performances that incorporate non-musical elements. It makes playing the piece all the more enjoyable knowing someone can get a cheap chuckle from it.

How has your experience in the orchestra been so far?

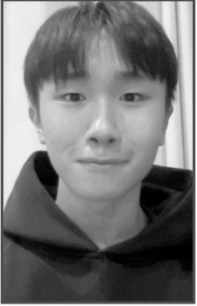

My time in the orchestra is probably one of the shortest amongst the graduating class this year. Nonetheless, I definitely saw myself improve. I still remember the terror when I looked at Tchaikovsky's Waltz of the Flowers for the first time. Listening to myself play the same piece last year, although not perfectly, made me realize just how much I've grown. I've made many friends throughout these years and have definitely made the experience more diverse-from chatting in the cafeteria to playing the piano in the auditorium. I will miss playing music in this ensemble.

Do you have any goals for the future? (Musical or in general)

This is more of a note to myself than anything. I want to work to become a "better person". Yes, it does sound mildly narcissistic. I want to build better habits: sleep more, swim more, maybe pick up a book or two for once. I want to continue playing my instruments even if I am not in a school band or orchestra after I graduate-simple things that bring joy to my life.

What is your favorite piece from this year's Holiday concert? And why?

My favorite piece from this year's Holiday concert is Christmas at the Movies. I love how it transitions through a variety of themes, capturing the spirit of beloved holiday films in a way that feels both nostalgic and magical. Each section brings in a unique emotion, allowing the audience to experience joy, wonder, and warmth all in one single performance.

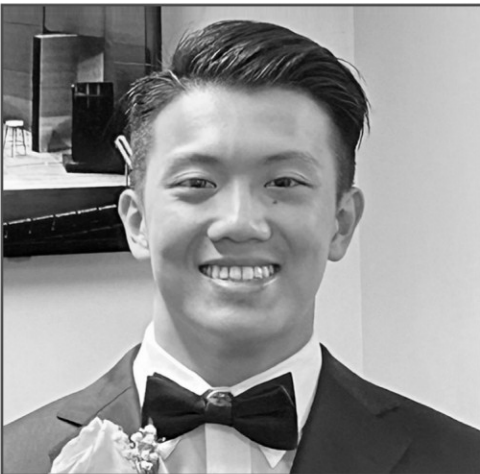

What are your plans for this Holiday break?

Study, read books, gain exposure to worldly culture.

How has your experience in the orchestra been so far?

Participating in the orchestra has been an invaluable experience defined by moments of growth and reflection. The seniors leave me with lessons I'll never forget, their guidance shaping both my technique and perspective. Weekly, the conductor conveys his anger and frustration towards me, yet instead of discouraging me, it fuels my drive to improve. In terms of difficulty, our concert music is, in my opinion, moderately challenging. However, I personally find it highly complex, akin to a math equation that pushes both the performer and the audience to uncover the composer's intent and purpose in arranging the piece. Joining the orchestra has taught me that music is more than just playing the correct beats on the correct beats, and I think it is as the conductor said: "it's about inserting the feeling felt from playing the piece".

HONORARY ALUMNI

Toby Ou:

I joined this orchestra in the fourth grade, and it has since provided me with numerous valuable opportunities for both personal and musical growth. Throughout my time here, I have not only developed my skills but also forged lasting friendships with fellow musicians. I am grateful for the experiences this orchestra has given me, and I highly encourage others to consider joining, as it offers a unique and rewarding environment for all.

In the orchestra, I learned the power of communication, active listening, and the importance of teamwork. These foundational skills would prove to be invaluable when I decided to pursue a career in Air Force Special Operations. In high school, I set my sights on becoming a special operator, dedicating myself to intense physical training and unwavering perseverance. Through hard work and determination, I earned the opportunity to serve as a Special Operator Trainee.

Drawing upon the lessons I learned in the orchestra - how to coordinate with others, listen carefully, and adapt quickly - was able to seamlessly integrate into my team. Those skills of synchronization and discipline, honed through music, became my strength in high-stakes situations, allowing me to operate with precision and unity alongside my teammates. In both the concert hall and the battlefield, I discovered that true success lies in the harmony of effort and the strength of those you work alongside.
